

SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM

A NATIONAL SECURITY EDUCATION PROGRAM INITIATIVE

JANUARY - AUGUST

PROFESSIONAL ENGLISH FOR GOVERNMENT CAREERS

EHLS trains native speakers of critical languages in advanced English and career skills. The program offers graduates the unique opportunity to employ their knowledge and skills in a federal career.

EHLS

Professional English
New Opportunities

Apply February through July for the following year

www.ehlsprogram.org
202.687.4455

See program details on the back of this card.

SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM

A NATIONAL SECURITY EDUCATION PROGRAM INITIATIVE

JANUARY - AUGUST

ENGLISH FOR HERITAGE LANGUAGE SPEAKERS

Program Description

- Instruction in advanced English and professional communication
- Full-time intensive program on the Georgetown University downtown campus January through June
- Part-time online program July through August
- Graduates receive special advantages to start a government career

Scholarship

- All participants receive a full-tuition scholarship and a monthly living stipend
- Award funded by the National Security Education Program, which is administered by the Defense Language and National Security Education Office
- Limited financial support available for relocation to the Washington, DC, area

To be eligible, you must:

- Be a U.S. citizen
- Be a native speaker of one of the critical languages; past critical languages have included Amharic, Arabic, Azerbaijani, Balochi, Bambara, Chinese Mandarin, Hausa, Hindi, Kazakh, Kirghiz, Kurdish, Korean, Persian Dari, Persian Farsi, Punjabi, Pushto/Pashto, Russian, Somali, Tadjik, Tamashek, Thai, Tigrinya, Turkish, Ukrainian, Urdu, Uzbek and Vietnamese.
- Have advanced proficiency in English
- Have a college degree (B.A./B.S. or equivalent)
- Be able to commit to a full-time day program from January through June at Georgetown University School of Continuing Studies
- Agree to work for the federal government—in a position with national security responsibilities—for at least one year

EHLS

Professional English
New Opportunities

Defense Language and National Security Education Office

CAL CENTER
FOR APPLIED
LINGUISTICS

GEORGETOWN UNIVERSITY
School of Continuing Studies

APPLY NOW!

www.ehlsprogram.org
info@ehlsprogram.org
202.687.4455

Apply February through July for the following year