

PROFESSIONAL ENGLISH FOR GOVERNMENT CAREERS

EHLS trains native speakers of critical languages in advanced English and career skills. The Program offers graduates the unique opportunity to employ their knowledge and skills in a federal career.

Full scholarships are available for U.S. citizens who have a college degree and are native speakers of critical languages. Past critical languages have included: Amharic, Arabic, Azerbaijani, Balochi, Bambara, Chinese Mandarin, Hausa, Hindi, Kazakh, Kirghiz, Kurdish, Korean, Persian Dari, Persian Farsi, Punjabi, Pushto/Pashto, Russian, Somali, Tadjik, Tamashek, Thai, Tigrinya, Turkish, Ukrainian, Urdu, Uzbek and Vietnamese.

English for Heritage Language Speakers at Georgetown University
A National Security Education Program initiative

www.ehlsprogram.org | 202.687.4455

Defense Language and National Security Education Office

CAL CENTER FOR APPLIED LINGUISTICS

GEORGETOWN UNIVERSITY
School of Continuing Studies